LORD BYRON'S FAREWELL TO LADY BYRON.

[The following poem was addressed by Lord Byron to his wife after they had parted—after a heartless world and ambitious pride had severed two proud and noble hearts—after a Lord forgot his pledge of affection and a Lady her vows of love, adoration and obedience. Why they parted the world will never truly know; each had their faults and each tell their story—it was perhaps the fault of neither, but the foolish interference of heartless friends, who, after closing the ruin wrought, shrunk back to hide their own crime at the expense of all the misery and loneliness it cost. Lord Byron and Lady Byron never united again.—Lady Byron returned to her mother, while Lord Byron plunged into a life of reckless wandering and wretchedness:]

Fare thee well! and if forever,
Still forever, fare thee well!
Even though unforgiving, never
'Gainst thee shall my heart rebel.
Would that breast were bared before thee
Where thy head so oft hath lain,
While that placid sleep came o'er thee
Which thou ne'er can's't know again;
Would that breast, by thee glanced over;
Every inmost thought could show!
Then thou wouldst at last discover
'Twas not well to spurn it so.
Though the world for this commend thee—
Though it smile upon the blow,
Even its praises must offend thee,
Founded on another's woe
Though my many faults deface me,
Could no other arm be found
Than the one which once embraced me,
To inflict a cureless wound?
Yet, oh yet, thyself deceive not,
Love may sink by slow decay,
But by sudden wrench, believe not
Hearts can thus be torn away;
Still thine own its life retaineth—
Still must mine, thine bleeding, beat,
And the undying thought that paineth
Is—that we no more may meet.
There are words of deeper sorrow
Than the wail above the dead;
Both shall live, but every morrow
Wakes us from a widow'd bed.
And when thou wouldst solace gather
When our child's first accents flow,
Wilt thou teach her to say "FATHER!"
Though his care she must forego?
When her little hands shall press thee,
When her lip to thine is prest,
Think of him whose prayer shall bless thee
Think of him thy love had bless'd!
Should her lineaments resemble
Those thou never mayst see,
Then thy heart will soft ly tremble
With a pulse still true to me,
All my faults perchance thou knowest,
All my madness none can know;
All my hopes where'r thou goest,
Whither—yet with thee they go.
Every feeling hath been shaken;
Pride, which not a world could bow,
Bows to thee—by thee forsaken,
Even my soul forsakes me now,
But 'tis done—all words are idle—
Words from me are vainer still;
But the thoughts we cannot bridle
Force their way without the will.
Fare thee well!—thus disunited,
Torn from every nearer tie,
Seard in heart, and lone, and blighted—
More than this I scarce can die.

LADY BYRON'S ANSWER.

[The following is Lady Byron's reply to Lord Byron. Lady Byron first met Lord Byron at one of the English parties—she refused the hand of the poet, who then offered, but one year later consented to become his wife. She was a woman of rare beauty and fine taste, but, like Byron, was too proud to brook insult or live a moment with those she deemed neglectful. In her lines to Byron, the reader will discover several ill—timed allutions to his devotion for other women and neglect to her. This, to one so sensitive as Byron, was worse than poison, and drove the brightest mind in England down to the very depths of misery and crime:]

Yes! farewell—farewell forever!
Thou thyself hast fixed our doom,
Bade hope's fairest blossoms wither,
Never again for me to bloom—
Unforgiving thou hast called me—
Didst thou ever say forgive?
For the wretch whose wiles beguiled thee
Thou alone didst seem to live.

Short the space which time has given
To complete thy love's decay;
By unhallowed passion driven,
Soon thy heart was taught to stray
Lived for me that feeling tender
Which thy verse so well can show,
From my arms why didst thou wonder,
My endearments why forego?

Oh, too late thy breast was bared,
Oh, too late to me was shown
That thy love I once had shared,
And already it has flown.
Wrapt in dreams of joy abiding,
On thy breast my head hath lain,
In thy love and truth confiding,
Bliss I ne'er can know again.

That dark hour did first discover
In thy soul the hideous stain—
Would those eyes had closed forever.
Ne'er to weep thy crimes again.
But the implous wish, O Heaven!
From thy record blotted be;
Yes, I would live, O Byron,
For the babe I've born for thee!

In whose lovely features (let me
All my weakness here confess,
Whilst the struggling tears permit me,)
All the father's I can trace—
He whose image never leaves me,
He whose image still I prize,
Who this bitterest feeling gave me,
Still to love where I despise.

With regret and sorrow rather,
When our child's first accents flow,
I will teach her to say Father,
But his guilt she ne'er shall know;
Whilst to-morrow and to-morrow
Wake me from a widowed bed,
On another arm no sorrow
Wilt thou feel, no tear wilt shed.

I the world's approval sought not,
When I tore myself from thee;
Of its praise or blame I thought not—
What's its praise or blame to me?
He so prized—so loved—adored,
From his heart my image drove,
On my head contempt has poured,
And preferred a wanton's love.

Thou art proud; but mark me, Byron,
I've a heart proud as thine own,
Soft to love but hard as iron
When contempt is o'er it thrown;
But, farewell!—I'll not upbraid thee,
Never, never, wish the ill;
Wretched though thy crimes have made me,
If thou can'st—be happy still.

Correspondence.

Letter From Washington.

WASHINGTON, D.C., July 18, '70.

MR. EDITOR:—Of all the hot weather yet experienced by the sojourners and residents of this city, the present is certainly the hottest. With the thermometer ranging, every day, from 90 to 100 degrees in the shade, you can imagine how we welter and sweat, and unavailingly long for cool retreats.

"Some boundless contiguity of shade."

The 41st Congress is now among the things that were, and already we can feel that the dull season has commenced, and that throughout the Executive Departments, except in the navy, great inactivity prevails, nothing whatever transpiring to relieve the dull monotony of routine business. A number of clerks in the various offices are enjoying their annual leave of absence, to be absent from hard duty, and present with the loved ones at home for the space of thirty days. In the course of ten days nearly all the cabinet officers will be absent from the city to remain during the summer, except at intervals of ten and fifteen days, when they will make short visits to the Capital, merely to keep up the routine business of their departments.

If the last Congress failed to do all that was desired, it can certainly not be held responsible as having done nothing; for some of the acts of the last session will go down in history as the most important events of the age. It witnessed the final adoption of the fifteenth amendment to the Constitution, and the proclamation which made it a part of the law of the land, and a law was passed to give it effect.

The finance question was one of the most intricate and perplexing of the session, and, as usual, nearly every Senator and Representative had his own pet theory. The speech of the Hon. W. H. Armstrong, our member, on the bill "to increase banking facilities, and for other purposes," is regarded as one of the ablest efforts of the session. It is a plain and practical representation of facts, and abounds, throughout, with arguments exhaustive of every topic discussed. He has been a faithful Representative, and deserves the unreserved confidence of his constituency, and the return to the field of duty in which he has so faithfully and unselfishly labored.

The last session also witnessed of a schedule of taxation which is intended to raise sufficient revenue for the support of the government, pay the accruing interest on the debt, and discharge so much of the principal as will give assurance of its ultimate extinction, and, at the same time, silence the clamors of those who complain of our taxation, by lowering the rates in some instances, and abolishing them entirely in others. The tariff bill satisfies neither free trade nor protectionists; but, upon the whole, it is the best law which could have been devised and passed in a Congress so divided in opinions and interests.

The bill to amend the naturalization laws is considered one of the most important of the session, and will go far in preventing the wholesale frauds in the naturalization of foreigners, from which the Republican party throughout the Union, and especially in Pennsylvania, has suffered so much.

One of the sins of omission charged upon Congress was, the failure to recognize the independence of Cuba; but this is a question of international law, that rises above spread eagle declamation, which demands the government to adopt a policy against which she has always heretofore protested, and the adoption of which might lead to serious complications. The rejection of the San Domingo treaty by the Senate is now beginning to be spoken of as an error, in view of the European war, as, in that event, a foothold in the West Indies would be very desirable for us.

Every other subject of interest is now absorbed by the threatened war in Europe. The entire world, if war must come, will look with interest to the result of a conflict which will establish the supremacy of either the Germanic or Gallic race. Great excitement was occasioned in the House of Representatives on Friday last by the Speaker reading a dispatch received by the Prussian Minister, from Prussia, to the effect that Prussia accepted the declaration of war made by France

CENTRE COUNTY'S CHOICE.

In accordance with the usages of the great Republican party, we this week raise to our mast head, as our standard bearer, for the coming Congressional Campaign in the 18th District, the name of HON. WM. H. ARMSTRONG, our present able and efficient member.

As we have said, it has ever been the custom of our party to grant a re-election to our members of Congress as well as to those who fill other important positions in the State and Nation. The wisdom of this course must be apparent to every thinking man. It was the observance of this custom, and the practice of re-electing efficient men to Congress, not only for a second term, but for the third, fourth, fifth and as high as the tenth term, that made the South strong and members of Congress efficient and useful to that section. It was this practice that gave her members the advantage over our Northern members, who were either newly elected or at the most serving out their second term. The practice of the South was, when they had a strong member to keep him there, while the practice of the North has been to change members, no matter how able and faithful, for new and untried men—for some aspiring individual who thought his turn to play public servant had come.

This practice—this exchanging of experienced and tried, for inexperienced and untried men, has worked great injury to our party and to the great and patriotic North.

When we have a good and true man—a man of superior abilities sound upon all the principles of the Liberty loving Republican party, in Congress—we say that it is the true policy of our people to keep him there so long as he faithfully performs his duties.

That Hon. W. H. Armstrong, has been faithful,—that he has done as well for his immediate constituency as any other member of Congress—that he supported and defended all the leading and important questions in such a manner as to make for himself a reputation unequaled by any new member of the House, we presume few will question.

In view of these facts, we urge his renomination and guarantee his triumphant election. To the Press throughout the District we are happy to say that Centre County will run no candidate in opposition to Hon. Wm. H. Armstrong. Edward Blanchard Esq., is not a candidate. A. B. Hutchison, Esq., would not think of being a candidate against Mr. Armstrong and we have every assurance directly from Gen. Jas. A. Beaver that he will not, under any circumstances, suffer his name to be used in connection with this or any other office at this time.

STATE SENATORS.

The Bellefonte Ring have put forth a feeler, and have puffed C. T. Alexander, Esq., in the Watchman one week, and S. T. Shugert, Esq., in the next, and we may look out weekly, until their convention meets to nominate, for a few more of the select to be named for the Senate and Legislature. We suppose D. G. Bush, Esq., will be the next to receive a notice containing the astounding news that his numerous friends are compelling him to be a candidate for Senatorial honors. There is trouble in the Ring. Somebody is bound to be gulled and cheated.

But why does not the Watchman name all that is said to have no objections to their names being used for these positions? Of course we do not pretend to know all the aspirants; but, so far as Bellefonte is concerned, we can state, for the information of the whole Democratic party of the county, that Bellefonte is ready to furnish "sharp, energetic" candidates for both positions—particularly the Senate. The candidates for the position are becoming numerous.

We now have the names of C. T. Alexander, S. T. Shugert, D. G. Bush, James Macmanus, Gen. Wm. H. Blair, P. G. Meek, A. Hoy, John Orvis, with one or two others, who are willing to sacrifice their time and talents in the pursuit of happiness, and in the domestic tranquility of the Court House Ring and their Bourbon Sachems. Will the country Democrats refuse this small boon to Bellefonte when it costs them nothing? Can "Fred Kurtz's Reporter" refuse to advocate the claims of all, or any of these men, and permit Pennsvalley to remain out in the cold, or to be bought off by a single candidate for Commissioner? Where is Jacob G. Moyer and his friends? Remember, Jacob, flour has riz.

THE CHINESE QUESTION.—This new issue thrust upon the American people, when stripped of all its surroundings is simply a question of Roast Rat vs Roast Beef.

"STRAWS SHOW WHICH WAY THE WIND BLOWS."

We told Fred Kurtz last week that the Watchman and the Ring looked upon him and his Democratic Reporter as an interloper, and that Fred knew it. We told him that he was looked down upon and despised by the Bellefonte Democracy. We told him that the Watchman Editor, P. G. Meek, considered him not only an interloper, but a deadly enemy; one who stands between Meek and the Pennsvalley Democracy; one who, by the establishment of his Reporter, prevents 500 or 600 of the Pennsvalley Democracy from subscribing for the Watchman, thus, as Meek says, taking out of his pocket from $1000 to $1,500 every year. It is on account of this bitter feeling which exists in Meek's small, narrow, contracted breast, that "a trick "was resorted to, to prevent Sheriff "Woodring from publishing a single "legal notice in the columns of the Re- "porter."

Every number of the Watchman gives us fresh evidence of Meek's antipathy for Kurtz. Take, for instance, the last number of that paper. We there find the following significant and intended morceau: "Our friend W. H. H. Brain- "erd, of the Tyrone Herald, was in town "on Saturday and Sunday. He is ma- "king the Herald a live sheet." This is complimentary to a so-called Republican paper, and a "live sheet," we presume, for services rendered the Watchman in the Cateline conspiracy against Hon. Wm. H. Armstrong and the Republican party.

But, as Fred was slow in showing his fealty to the Ring, as well as for the reasons above stated, we find, in the same issue of the Watchman, the Parthean arrow let slip in the most contemptuous manner at him in this wise: "The "man at Madisonburg, who published "his wheat in Fred Kurtz's Reporter "is, we think, beaten by Mr. White."—Is not this strikingly Jesuitical and curious? Why could not Meek quote the Reporter fairly? Why did the Watchman not give the name of the farmer, instead of sneeringly dubbing him "the "man from Madisonburg?" We will give you the reason—simply because that honest farmer dared to communicate with Fred Kurtz, the Editor of the Reporter, instead of the Watchman.

If it had been noticed in that "live sheet," the Tyrone Herald, by their fellow conspirator, Brainerd, it would have afforded some buncomb, and would have been noticed in full, and in the most flunkey style; but to notice it in "Fred Kurtz's Reporter" would have been unpardonable, inasmuch as the Reporter is not recognized by the Watchman, the Ring or their officials; "Sher- "iff Woodring not being permitted to "publish a single legal notice in the Re- "porter."

Why does Meek, in speaking of the Editor of the Herald, say "our friend "Brainerd," and when speaking of your paper, speaks of it only (and that in the most sneering and contemptuous terms) as "Fred Kurtz's Reporter?" Why does he say "our friend Brainerd," and not say our friend Kurtz? No, no; he can not say friend Kurtz; but "Fred Kurtz," and "Fred Kurtz's Reporter."

There are none so blind as those who will not see. There are none so weak as those who, having the power, know not how to use it; and who, while they are planning and getting ready for action, suffer the enemy to shear away their locks—to rob them of their strength, and to bind them hand and foot. We fear that our friend Kurtz has been wilfully blind to his own interests. We fear that the Ring has succeeded in shearing off a part of his hair. We fear that he has remained quiescent too long. We are apprehensive of the fact that he has folded his arms and cried peace for the sake of party, until the Ring has him completely in its meshes, and until Meek has ceased both to fear and to respect him. If this is not so, why is it that Meek dares to speak so contemptuously of "Fred Kurtz's Reporter?"

Mr. Kurtz boasts of having eight hundred subscribers to the Centre Hall Reporter. Nearly all of these, we presume, are Pennsvalley Democrats—Fred's own particular, personal friends. These should make him strong—a power in the Democratic party. It should put him in a position which would enable him to command the Court House Ring, and P. G. Meek, Editor of the Watchman. But, as we said last week, Fred lacks political and moral courage, and, therefore, suffers the Ring to rule him—suffers Meek to insult him, and speak sneeringly of his paper, and, more than all this, suffers his Pennsvalley Democratic friends to be hoodwinked, bamboozled, sold out by the Ring; cheated out of all the good, fat offices, while Fred has not the courage (while he admits its existence) to expose the corruption and trickery of the Ring, and save his friends from insult and injury.

Will Kurtz arouse himself to action? Will he assert his manhood, and let the Watchman and the Ring know that they are not, and shall not be the dictators and task-masters of the Pennsvalley and Centre county Democracy, or will you still howl Chinese, and yourself play "Cooly" to the Ring? We are watching you closely, Fred. Fully 500 independent Democrats in this county are, with the deepest interest, watching your course. Unless you assert your manhood, unless you hurl back into the teeth of the Watchman the insults heaped upon you, and expose the treachery of the Bellefonte Democracy, rest assured that we will soon number these five hundred independent Democrats upon our subscription books. They are only waiting for a pretext to leave the party. We hope, for their own interests, that the pretext will offer soon.—In the meantime we honestly confess that we would be pleased to see Fred maintain his independence as a man and journalist, and we would rejoice to hear him exclaim "My heart is firm; "there is nought within the compass of "humanity, but I would dare and do."

THE Infallibility of the Pope has been passed and proclaimed by the great council now setting at Rome. This dogma does not impose a new faith upon the Roman Catholic laity, for it is an undeniable fact that they firmly believed in the infallibility of the Pope long before the council was called. Some may have doubted the wisdom of proclaiming it; but practically, all have held it for years back; consequently, the adoption of the dogma does not threaten any schism in the church. The only effect that it will have on the church will be a centralization of its powers over its vast number of members. Centralization of power is now the watchword of the Protestant world, which they are rapidly developing, and the new Catholic dogma is only in keeping with the spirit of their opponents.

TRICKERY OF THE RING—WALKER TOWNSHIP.

The Watchman, last week, in order to cover over the iniquities, chicanery, hypocrisy and base trickery of its Editor, and of the Court House Ring, sets up the old cry of "stop thief!" thus endeavoring to destroy our influence, and break the force of the plain truths we are telling in regard to the mismanagement of our county affairs by our present officials. We have no time at present to devote to personal attacks upon ourselves. The interests of the taxpayer, and the welfare of the whole people of the county demand better things of us—demand our whole space. At the proper time we will attend to Mr. Meek's charges against us, and we may, at the same time, ask him a few questions in regard to how he abused every good Democrat in the county, in his travels last fall. We may ask him to explain all about the patent churn business—the counterfeit money transaction. We may ask him to explain all about the "pincher" and "rooster" business while he was in Harrisburg misrepresenting this county in the Legislature. We may ask him to explain why he was not classed among the Harrisburg Patriot's list of honest men, and we may finally request him once more to explain who stole, or was charged with stealing a certain horse in Half Moon; but, as we stated, we have no room for these things now.

We care not for Meek's charges against us, a treacherous traitor and British free trader, as he is, can do us no harm.—His attack upon us only proves that our articles on the Ring, and our exposure of their base and heartless corruption is telling upon the honest masses of the Democratic party, and that he is not able, by argument, to contradict the force of the great truths we are publishing. Meek and the Ring see the hand writing on the wall. They see that the days of their political power and corruption are numbered in the county; hence their growls at us, and their bitter antipathy to every Democrat who will not endorse their course, and allow them to carry on the stealing process in which they have been so successful for years. They have stolen from the public treasury until our county taxes are six mills to the dollar, and yet they claim that the county is out of debt. Shame on such base and wicked hypocrits.

They are now looking around for a candidate for County Commissioner to suit their purposes. To do this, they must ignore the claims of Walker township, and the claims of such sterling and faithful Democrats (if there can be faithful Democrats) as Henry Dunkle and B. F. Shaffer. Last fall, it suited Meek's purposes to have one or both of them to announce their names as candidates for County Commissioner. The facts in connection with this statement are about as follows: Henry Dunkle, Esq., was a candidate for Commissioner. Meek called to see him, and upon ascertaining that Mr. Dunkle was in favor of Jacob G. Moyer for the Legislature, and that he could not be changed from his purpose, or compelled to break his pledge to Mr. Moyer, Meek left him, and passed on to Mr. Shaffer, and insisted upon his being a candidate, and thus secure the delegates to Meek. Well knowing, as he did, that the very course he asked those men to pursue would defeat them both. But what did he care for their success, so he made his point? How is it now? Do we find Meek advocating the claims of either of these men for the office of County Commissioner? Has he one word to utter in favor of his friend B. F. Shaffer? Not a word; but, on the other hand, traitor-like, a communication is written in the Watchman office, purporting to have come from "Walker" township, ignoring the claims of that township, and asking for a Gregg township man. The communication makes Walker township say that "it is generally conceded on this "side of the mountain that the next "nominee for County Commissioner be- "longs to some of the townships over "the mountain, as this side of the moun- "tain has two who hold over." What does this mean, but a dead thrust at Meek's particular friend, Mr. Shaffer, as well as at Mr. Dunkle? here the trickery of Meek and the Ring is too palpable to deceive any one. In order to punish Mr. Dunkle, he is compelled to betray and sell out his friend Shaffer, and give the office to Mr. Sankey, or some other Gregg township man.

The communication further says: "Now, it is important that we should "have a good man for this office."—What is that but an insult to Mr. Shaffer, and all Walker township? Again it says: "A large number of the Demo- "crats of Walker, after consultation, "have concluded that John Sankey, of "Gregg township, is the proper man to "fill said office."

Now, we assert, without fear of contradiction, that the Democrats of Walker held no such consultation, and that the communication was written, as we have already stated, in the Watchman office, and signed Walker for the purpose of cheating Messrs. Dunkle and Shaffer out of the office. This is the way the Ring operates. They care not for their friends. They regard not the interests of the masses. They, like Judas of old, would, for the half of thirty pieces of silver, sell out their best and truest friends, and at the same time point him out by saying, "he whom I "kiss is the man."

ALABAMA CLAIMS.—We are informed that the most persistent and unyielding of the private citizens who have claims against the British Government are Dr. J. C. Ayer & Co., of Lowell, Mass., the manufacturers of medicines. They will consent to nothing less than that their demand for medicines destroyed by the British pirates shall be paid in gold and in dollars to the last cent. They are emboldened by the fact that the destruction of their goods by the English in China and elsewhere (for where are not that troublesome nation trampling upon somebody?) have hitherto been paid in full, and they now say that they shall be. They however propose this compromise:—Give us Canada and we will call it even, because we can then send our remedies there without duty.—[Washington News.

WITHDRAWN.—On account of sickness of a near relative, E. B. McCrum, of the Tribune, withdraws his name from the Senatorial contest in this District. The Republican party will be a loser by this, as Brother McCrum was well qualified to fill the position in a superior manner.

SENATORIAL.—Col. John A. Lemon of Hollidaysburg, is announced in the last Register as a Republican candidate for the nomination of State Senator.

WHERE? OH, WHERE?

MILESBURG IRON WORKS,
July 23, 1870.

MESSRS. R. B. BARGER & CO.—Gentlemen—Will you be kind enough to tell me what has become of "Plain Words?"

I subscribed for the "National," paid Mr. Gould for it in advance and received, perhaps, twenty numbers; that investment I am willing to let go, as I received partial value therefor. I then subscribed for "Plain Words," paid Mr. Brainerd in advance, and received 1 think, but one paper since the introductory one sent first. Am I to be swindled again? What has become of "Plain Words?" that's the question.

Yours truly &c.,
CHAS. L. BUFFINGTON.

In reply to Mr. Buffington, we would state that Plain Words, after making its appearance regularly for four consecutive weeks, died a quiet and peaceful death from an overdose of "cold shoulder," administered by the honest and sturdy Republicans of Centre county.

Its Editor, Mr. Brainerd, announced in the first number of that paper that he would oppose Hon. Wm. H. Armstrong, might and main, from that time to the day of the election. He soon found that the Republicans of Centre would not countenance a disorganizer, and one who, but a few weeks before, when he was a candidate for the Deputy Marshalship of the Bellefonte district, was lavish of his praise of Mr. Armstrong. The cause of his opposition to Mr. Armstrong was, therefore, too apparent. Everybody could see that this appointment as Marshall would have made a sound Armstrong man of Brainerd.

We believe there were about twenty others, besides yourself, that paid Mr. Brainerd in advance; and, judging from you, we think even all of these were not anti-Armstrong men. Whether they were, or not, Mr. Brainerd discovered very soon that, to print an anti-Armstrong paper in Centre county was an up-hill business, and sure to lead to starvation and bankruptcy; and so, by the light of the moon, on Friday evening the 8th inst., he gathered up stands, cases and types, (he had no press—the paper being printed in the Watchman office,) and departed for Tyrone, where he is, we believe, engaged in slandering, blackguarding and maligning Mr. Armstrong, and some of Centre county's best citizens. His pen or tongue is no scandal; and where he is known, he can do no harm.

Whether Mr. Brainerd will refund your $1 50, we cannot say; but rather think it is gone with Plain Words to that country where the woodbine twineth, where the whangdoodle mourneth for her first born, and the inhabitants thereof play on a harp of a thousand strings—for scrip.

STRENGTH OF EUROPEAN ARMIES.

France has a total army of 1,100,000, of which 414,632 are in the field. Of this number 370,000 are ready to march at a moment's notice.

Austria, which nation will of course unite with France against Prussia, has 278,440 men on the peace establishment, 838,700 of a war strength, or 300,000 fully prepared to move. Could the South German Confederation or group of States be secured on the same side, they would have 66,540 men on the peace list, or 184,406 on the war footing, with 107,000 of these prepared for instant service. Such a coalition would give France the control of 177,000 fighting men at once, with a reserve of 1,496,103 trained soldiers.

Prussia has 726,000 men on the peace and 1,266,000 on the war footing, with 300,000 now ready for operations on the western frontier. North Germany, going with Prussia, has 315,526 on the peace, 351,993 on the field, or 944,321 on the war footing, of which 546,000 are instantly available. This would place at Prussian disposal 846,000 men for the first moment, and 1,364,331 in reserve. Thus she would have instantly 69,000 men or more, and hereafter 251,785, less than the French alliance. Should she be able to manage South Germany for her cause, she would have 1,053,000 men, or 176,000 more than France, to move at once, or quite enough to cope with her and Austria together for the time being, with all the advantages of a common language and position. This would leave Prussia still a reserve of 1,441,727 men, or only 151,370 less than France and Austria combined.

Italy, out of a force of 376,721 in all, could spare possibly 200,000 men to operate on the French frontier or hold a hostile corps in check. Russia it is believed, in case of war between France and Prussia, would not interfere, but, should circumstances compel her to do so, would join her fortunes with those of King William, of Prussia. In this case, she could spare 250,000 men out of about 700,000. The curse of Sweeden and Denmark is hard to determine, in case of war; but it is believed they would add their forces, about 50,000, to those of France.

THE EUROPEAN WAR.

Up to this writing, July 25th, there has been no regular engagement between the French and Prussians. Both powers have been concentrating their forces along the German frontier, between the Rhine and Moselle rivers, with Strausburg as the right, and Mentz as the left wing of the French line. The German army accommodating itself to this line, has established its left at Rastadt with its right resting on the Moselle.

Nearly the whole force of both armies are face to face, and ere long a desperate and bloody battle must be fought, which, in all probability, if decisive in its results, will terminate the war.

Great enthusiasm, in favor of the war, exists throughout all Germany, and the same may be said of France.

Denmark and Hungary have decided on war, and will join France. Russia, Austria and Spain will, at present, take no part in the contest. England is rapidly putting her army on a war footing.—Turkey offers to help France for a consideration.

On the 23d inst., a French reconoitering party entered Prussia at Carding, and repulsed a small Prussian force without loss to either side.

The Prussian Government has issued circulars to all Consuls in foreign States, requiring them to forward immediately all Germans liable to military duty, paying their passage, and also to forward, on the same terms, all volunteers who may wish to fight for Germany.

The Prussians assert that, if they are successful in the coming fight, they will march to Paris.

A. W. TAYLOR, Esq., of Indiana county, Pa., has been nominated as the Republican candidate for Congress in the twenty-first district, (Covodes,) composed of the counties of Westmoreland, Fayette and Indiana. Mr. Taylor is a man of great legal ability, and belongs to an old and influential family of that county, and will make the best run against Hon. H. D. Foster, who is his Democratic opponent, of any person that could have been nominated by the party. We consider his election certain.

Recollections of the War—1861-'62.

DEAR REPUBLICAN:—Can a man sit down coolly, and write for a newspaper, with the thermometer at one thousand and two, in the ice house? I don't mean that the mercury has reached that figure in Chicago. I do believe I know Chicagoans who will someday reach a place which will be about that hot.—One hundred and two; those are the figures here now. I will never, from choice, go to any hotter place.

I have not written you any recollections for so long a time that my old quill-pen has dried up, and spreads at the point like a boot jack. It sputters the ink around as the sparks fly from the anvil.

I bade you good by last time on Maridian hill. Now comes our march over the Potomac—our transfer to "sacred soil." Sacred then in the eyes of the chivalry; sacred now in the eyes of the world—rendered so by the blood of patriots.

On the march; and the boys are joyful. "Boys" applies alike to old men and young; for we were all "the boys" in the army. Father and son often marched side by side; fought side by sid; but all were "boys" those days.—Yes, the boys are joyful when on the move. How little we knew then of the hardships of the march—how little of the terrors of war. We were wedded to Uncle Sam's service for "three years or during," and this was part of our wedding tour—our honey-moon. The "stern realities" were all in the future. We knew nothing then of forced marches, by day and by night—of parched lips and aching limbs; nothing of sun-stroke and "falling out" by the way. The sickening crash of shell and solid shot tearing through their way through flesh and bones of comrades had never greeted our ears, and the "ping" of the Minnie would have been strange music to us, for this was only March—March of 1862.

Through Washington; over long bridge; up the river to Fort Albany.—Good old Col. Green, of Massachusetts, in command of the Fort. He stands in front of his quarters at the entrance to the fort as we enter. Not one word till his eye falls upon Lucas, with the ball and chain, and then he sings out, "Look here, Ker-nel, take that ball and chain off; we don't have men here with balls and chains on their legs!" And the ball and chain came off; and all the men said, Amen!

Not many days did we tarry at Fort Albany; for soon orders came to move down the Potomac. On the steamer Star, and under way, we soon pass the old time masonry, Fort Washington.—By and by the good old Dutch band struck up "Hail to the Chief," and the bell of the steamer tolls solemnly, and we know that we are nearing Mount Vernon, Washington's resting place.—Away to the right we see the old home and the unassuming tomb. We lift our hats reverently—colors are dipped. Hail and farewell.

Landed at Rum Point, Maryland.—Why it was called Rum Point, or why we landed there, I never will tell you. Now, rum is a liquid; a "spirituous liquid;" and, for "sich," some of the boys had a weakness; a very strong weakness. These boys imagined, from the name given to this garden spot, that rum did there abound. To their great disgust, their investigations proved only that the barrels strewn around in such profusion, contained only pork; army pork, at that. As they found no rum, they concluded they couldn't see the point, either; so they ignored the whole name; all admitting, however, that it had a decidedly rumy look.

Into camp, after a march of a mile or two through mud and rain, and over corduroy roads. I beg to state, for the enlightenment of your benighted readers, that corduroy roads are not made of the material used in the manufacture of corduroy breeches. I have seen breeches in corduroy roads, though I never rode in corduroy breeches. Soon left this filthy camp, for camp Hooker, near by, so called on account of having been old fighting Joe's headquarters.

It was at Camp Hooker that an unfortunate accident happened our fierce Major. In building the Major's mustache, the logs were allowed to protrude at the corners, and in going around the corner of one of the huts one night, one of the logs in the Major's mustache, some how, came in contact with the building, in such a manner as to cut the Major's upper lip considerably; so badly was it cut that it was necessary to remove the entire mustache. This was a severe trial to the Major, for his mustache and his "Dan" horse were his special pets.

I shall never forget the fine perch the boys used to catch in the Potomac at this locality. The first man who comes to my mind in connection with fish is George Simms. You know George.—Yes, everybody about Bellefonte knows George. Well, George was with us, and did the culinary for company H's officers. George was a host. We counted high up in the figures on him. Tho' the outside of Georges' skin was a shade darker than some others of us, there was not a whiter man in the regiment inside the skin. Fact is, we hadn't the advantage of George much in color, either; for we were all about black alike on the Potomac. Did we want fish? In an hour George would supply enough for a battalion. He had also a faculty for getting chickens. We never asked questions when we found a nice chicken on the table. Enough for us to know it was there, and cooked to perfection.—The cook who beats George on dressing a chicken for the table, must get up in the morning. There is one thing about George's army experience that I wont mention here; and that is his experience with the Virginia "ladies of color. "Go way from me now; you can't ketch me wid no sich bait as dat!" I hope George is alive to-day. If he is, I want somebody to point out this paragraph to him, that he may know that in my recollections of the war, I have not forgotten him.

While at Camp Hooker, the writer, and a Lieutenant of a New York regiment, with forty-five men each, erected a line of telegraph from Camp Hooker to a point opposite Acquia creek, in Virginia. We did the scientific part of the contract; we digged the holes and furnished the pole. Other parties following completed the task. As usual, we commenced the work on Sunday; and, I think, finished it on Tuesday evening. From the hour of starting, until the completion of the task, I think the rain did not cease falling for one hour. The line terminated on old rebel Mitchell's plantation. A rare specimen was he. Up to that time, he had taken the oath about a half dozen times, and violated it as often. He lived in grand style, though, on the beautiful bluffs of the Potomac, on his plantation was his magnificent mansion, a substantial tenant house, and a number of negro huts. The tenant house being unoccupied, I concluded to use it as quarters for my squad during the night, and applied for the key, which was refused. What was bolts and bars to rain-soaked soldiers seeking shelter. We simply "occupied" the house, and, on the great, wide fireplace, built a roaring fire with pickets from the house-yard fence. How dearly one of our party paid for this piece of vandalism is easily told. We sat around the fire with shoeless feet resting upon pickets strewn around. One of the party arose, hopped over his neighbor's leg, and lit with his heel upon an upturned rusty nail, which entered his foot its entire length. Sergeant Strickland, who was the only surgeon present, procured a side of bacon, and tied it on the unfortunate heel. The happy possessor of that heel had night-long visions of lock jaw and coffins. The nail was a tenpenny. I have the best authority for saying that that heel would not take twenty pennies and repeat the operation. The heel was quite indisposed next day, and was taken to camp in a cracker wagon.

Another move—another river trip brought us to Acquia creek, the river terminus of the Richmond and Fredericksburg Railroad. Here we occupied quarters built by the famous Louisiana Tigars, one of the blood-and-thunder organizations of the early part of the war. On their departure, the Johnnies had destroyed the bridge over Acquia creek, and torn up much of the road between Acquia creek and Fredericksburg. We re-built the bridge, and put the road in good condition. Also cleared the timber of a large number of acres, "clearing range for a fort"—a fort which, I guess, was never built. A right merry ring did a thousand axes make in those old Virginia woods. "Marching Along" was, at that time, the song on the Potomac. Upon this song Corporal D. R. P. Gill, of our company, composed a parody to suit our regiment while engaged in this wood-chopping operation. I only recollect the chorus, which runs like this:

"We are marching along, marching along,
Shoulder up your axes and go marching along,
The timber is plenty, to chop it we're strong,
So shoulder up your axes and go marching along."

It was at this point that the first death occurred in our company—that of comrade Dan. O'Brian, formerly of Pine Grove. Well do I remember how indignant we were when ordered to make his coffin before he died; how much time Col. Hoffman and myself spent looking out a beautiful spot, under a tree, on one of the high bluffs a mile away on the river, for his grave; how, afterward, it was determined to raise money and send his remains home to his friends, under charge of our "Orderly," father Brisbin, when our Quartermaster offered us an ordinary government wagon to carry the remains to the landing, two miles away, we indignantly refused, and preferred to carry our comrade that distance, rather than see him taken in so rough a hearse. Tender feelings were those which prompted all this kindness; feelings which were outraged when, often afterwards, we saw hundreds of brave boys thrown in coffinless graves—sometimes many in one grave. We sent poor Dan's remains home, and today he sleeps his long sleep in a grave 'mong the mountains.

Yours truly.

EM QUAD.

ANOTHER IMPORTANT DISCOVERY IN IRON.

The following, if true, is another triumph of American inventive genius. Two mechanics employed in Philadelphia claim to have discovered a new method of working scrap steel into a tough merchantable bar, equal to all, and superior to most ordinary grades. A correspondent, describing the process, says:

In several cases these bars were made of extremely small pieces, flies, &c., merely faggotted together; heated until it would appear all character of steel was gone, then covered lightly with the preparation and drawn down under the hammer. From this steel so made sledges, turning and planing tools, crank pins, guide bars, valve seats, &c., &c., have been made. The tools will not fly or chip, and have lasted better and done more than any used previously. The crank pins &c., have stood greater tests than any previous. Perhaps the most gratifying part of the process is that this steel can be manufactured at a cost of labor and flux not to exceed 2½ cents per pound. As the cost of the scrap is known to the trade, and the cost of bar or ingot steel, these advantages are evident.

The process was also tested on Bessemer steel. A pile was made of twelve pieces, one foot each, of English Bessemer rail end, heated in the furnace for half an hour and welded solid under the hammer, with the preparation applied in a bloom. This was re-heated, cut in two, after being tested by upsetting, and made into a crank pin, which stands any test applied. The weight of the rail ends was some 200 hounds, and the steel was as tough and fine grained as any first class steel could be. Of a piece of Bessemer steel thus treated, a chisel was made, which cut iron with the best. If these statements are true, the practical benefits of the discovery can scarcely be estimated.

$1,000 REWARD is offered by the proprietor of Dr. Pierce's Alt. Ext. or Golden Medical Discovery for a medicine that will equal it in the cure of all diseases for which it is recommended. For Bronchitis severe Coughs and the early stages of Consumption, it has astonished the medical faculty by its wonderful cures, and hundreds of the best physicians pronounce it the greatest medical discovery of the age. While it cures the severest coughs, strengthens the system and purifies the blood. As a cure for Pimples on the face, Eruptions, Blotches, Scrofulous diseases, and "Liver Complaint" or Billiousness, it has never been equaled. Sold by druggists.—The Genuine has Dr. Pierce's private Government Revenue Stamp, on the outside wrapper.

.....The Republican says, Plain Words the new paper recently started in Bellefonte by W. H. H. Brainerd, has suspended publication in that place, and has been consolidated with the Tyrone Herald. Can't some other dissatisfied office seeker get rid of his small change, and appease his personal wrath, by starting a newspaper for a few weeks? Try it, and be effectually cured.

He fired two shots at the poacher, who was John Phillips, from the effects of which shots Phillips died the next day.—Palmer then tried to shoot his wife, but she made her escape, for all of which Palmer is now quietly, waiting, in jail, for the court to try him for murder.

TIOGA COUNTY.—The annual county fair will be held at Wellsboro on the 28th, 29th and 30th of September next. ALTOONA.—On the morning of the 21st inst., the Millinery store of Mrs. Hall was destroyed by fire.

....The foundation walls of the new Presbyterian church are up, and it is intended to complete the building at the earliest possible day.

.....The Daily Sun has issued 66 numbers, and, judging from the appearance of it, it is a paying concern. It is a good local paper, and, barring its politics, deserves success.

.....Altoona appears to be infested with burglars. Raids by these enterprising gentlemen, on the citizen's houses, are of almost nightly occurrance.

....Adam A. Brown, of Siglerville, has a four-legged chicken, well formed, about two weeks old, and is as lively as the rest of the flock. This is certainly as much of a curiosity as a two-headed calf or a six-legged sheep.

A very good story is told of Dr. Storrs and Henry Ward Beecher. On some public occasion Dr. Storrs was to preach at Plymouth Church. After the celebrities had got into the pulpit, Mr. Beecher said: "Brother Storrs, directly under where you will stand to preach is a baptistry of the most approved pattern. It was built by a zealous Baptist, and is just the orthodox length and depth. The platform is controlled by a spring near my foot. There is at this time about three feet of water in the tank. When a brother preaches for me, and is very long and dry, I touch the spring and let him in."

The income tax from the Western district of Pennsylvania for the year 1869 was $1.423,299 69. The total receipts from the same source for the year 1870 were $1,521,911 07. The total increase of revenue from the district of the income tax for the year 1870 over 1869 is $98,611,38. Of this increase this district furnishes $6,412 81 over its returns of 1869. So says the Revenue Bureau at Washington.

The Chattanooga Railroad Co., are importing two thousand Chinese coolies to work on their road. A ship load of the same people recently arrived at New Orleans for the benefit of the Lousianians. From present appearance these people will become quite an element in American politics.

LOCAL ITEMS.

FRUIT Cans, warranted, manufactured by Wetsler & Twitmire, of Milesburg, and sold at 95 cents per dozen. n29-2t

THE "hand shakin g" season has commenced. The candidates are plying their old avocation—Glad to meet you Mr.—, &c.

THE West Branch camp meeting is to be held at MElhattan Run, near Wayne station, from the 16th to the 26th of August.

M. E. CHURCH.—The M. E. church at Philipsburg, is rapidly approaching completion. It will be, when finished, a magnificent structure.

OIL STRIKE.—Jacob Kepler, of this county, is the fortunate possessor of an interest of a hundred barrel well lately put down in the oil regions.

SOME one proposes that bulletin boards be put up at the entrance to churches, on which to placard the notices usually read from the pulpit. Good idea.

FOR RENT.—A nice and convenient house, for a small family, to rent. Also a good young cow for sale on easy terms. Inquire of C. T. Fryberger. j13.

THE Good Templars of the West Juniata District, will hold their next quarterly convention in Tyrone, commencing August 9th,and continuing two days.

STORM.—During a heavy storm of the 18th inst., along Penns Creek, two cows belonging, respectively, to Messrs. Musser and Wert, were killed by lightning.

NEW CHURCH.—The corner stone of the Baptist church at Philipsburg was laid on Sunday last, (24th inst.) The secret societies, of which there are not a few in that place, all participated.

CAMP MEETING.—We translate from the Centre Berichter the following: "The Evangelical Camp Meeting will be held in Michael Fidler's woods, near Madisonburg, commencing Aug. 18th.

IT is said that if a small quantity of coal oil be dropped on a piece of cotton, then squeezed out as dry as possible and then rubbed over the face and hands,no mosquito will alight where the scent has been left.

MATCHES.—We see it stated in some of our exchanges that the tax on matches has been removed. This is not the case, there still being a tax of one cent on each box containing one hundred or less, and an additional cent on each additional hundred or fraction of a hundred.

UNDER the new act pensioners will be paid quarterly instead of semi-annually, and by checks made payable to their own order. At the same time the bill is liberal towards the pension agents, allowing them a toll of thirty cents for every payment, or one dollar and twenty cents a year from each pensioner.

He sat in church on the Sabbath day
Puffing and puffing his breath away;
Wagging and wagging his palm-leaf-fan—
An overheated, and suffering man.

The next day he called in at Sternburg's and having procured one of his elegant and cheap summer suits,encased himself in it, and now says, he don't care how hot the weather is he can stand it.

HEAVY THUNDER.—We are informed that the lightning preceeding the heavy clap of thunder, which shocked so many of the residents of the North ward, on Sunday last, struck Robert Valentine's house but did it no material damage. The inmates and many of the neighbors were considerably "shocked" at such a desecration of the day set apart for rest.

RAILROAD LETTING.—The grading, masonery and bridging of that part of the Lewisburg Centre and Spruce Creek Railroad between Lewisburg and Mifflinburg, Union county, is advertised to be let to the lowest responsible bidder, in Lewisburg, on Saturday, Aug. 13, 1870. That looks like business. Why not have the construction of the whole road under contract by the 1st of September next?

LEMONADE AND FEVERS.—A cotemporary says that in most cases of fevers we have no doubt that the attack might have been prevented and the patient well in a few days without a particle of medicine, by rest, partial fasting and the free use of lemons and lemonade. The virtue of this article in bilious attacks and incipient fevers has been tested with the best results, and we recommend its use during the heated term as a preventive of these diseases.

BUST-BODIES.—Some of the "Bablers," about town had better talk less, and endeavor to obtain in some way a little common sense, a little good breeding, a little of the "needful"—and then if you can't abide the REPUBLICAN, you can leave town. Rest assured the REPUBLICAN will not leave. It is a fixed and permanent institution—the pride of all good and true Republicans,a terror to copperheads, traitors, free-traders and evil doers generally.

NEW FIRM.—Mr. Geo. O'Bryan, having disposed of his Book Store to Mr. Jno. I. Rankin, has associated himself with Samuel H. Williams, in the Furniture and Undertaking business. Instead of S. H. Williams & Co., the business will hereafter be conducted in the firm name of O'Bryan & Williams, dealers in all kinds of Furniture. Ready made Coffins kept constantly on hand. Coffins made to order from the lowest to the highest price. A specialty will be made of the Undertaking business.

Go to Wetsler & Twitmire and purchase charcoal tin Fruit Cans for 85 cts. per dozen. The very best in market. 2t

TANNERY.—New tannery buildings are being erected at Philipsburg. Some of the buildings have already been erected—the bark-shed 40 by 100 feet and another 30 by 180 feet, will soon be completed. The remaining buildings will be erected soon, when the enterprising firm will commence the process of tanning.

This enterprise will add greatly to the already well merited reputation of the town, and be the means of making business more active,and money more plenty. We hope they will be ready for business, by the 2nd Tuesday of October next, as we desire to send them about that time a lot of copperhead hides to tan.

FIRE AT OSCEOLA.—The fire at Osceola that we mentioned in our last issue, proves to be much more destructive than first reported to us. Instead of being a planing mill it was the large saw mill owned by the Moshannon Land & Lumber Company. Besides the mill, three dwelling houses, a large warehouse, a large portion of the Beaver trestle work on the Beaver Branch R. R., and twelve million feet of lumber. The total loss is estimated as follows:

Moshannon Land and Lumber Co.,	$160,000
A. B. Long & Sons,	15,000
J. M. Ellis & Son,	15,000
Decatur Coal Co.	5,000
P. R. R. Co.	4,000
Wells and Helms,	200
M. Kephart,	150
Total,	$199,350

AMOUNT INSURED.

Moshannon Land and Lumber Company,—Building	$ 8,000
Machinery,	31,122
Lumber	46 700
Total,	$85,825

A. B. Long & Sons' insurance had just expired at noon the day before. J. M. Ellis & Son insured for $5,000.

Our reporter states that the place now presents a dark and pittiful appearance. Arrangements are being made to rebuild as soon as practicable when former operations will be resumed.

This is a lesson to the uninsured. Better to be insured and receive some recompense for your loss than to lose all.

When persons are once insured, let them continue, and not let their policies expire, for the above is the result of it

FRUIT Cans manufactured from good charcoal tin and sold for 85 cents per dozen, by Wetsler & Twitmire, Milesburg, Pa. n29-2t

PIC-NIC.—The young gentlemen of Philipsburg, we understand, have been derelict of duty in regard to the opposite sex. Last week the young ladies resolved to have a pic-nic of their own since they were never made the recipients of invitations from the young men. They employed a juvenile to haul them to the grove and when there, they proceeded to enjoy themselves as best they could.

About the time they were finishing dinner, eating their desert,the rain compelled them to seek shelter under umbrellas, which they chanced to have along. The result was, they were completely soaked. This occurred on Wednesday last. Young men of Philipsburg, you have a grave sin to answer for. You should be more gallant. We understand the ladies say that lady Picnics, and being out in a storm without a young gentlemen to hold the umbrella, is not to be sought after, and is too much like apple dumplings without the apples in them.

A BOOK FOR THE BLIND.—The Agent, Mr. H. L. Hall, for the National Association for publishing Literary and musical works, for the Blind in raised letters, exhibited to us a specimen of one of the works, which will if completed and placed in the hands of the blind be of incalculable benefit to them.

As these books are expensive to print, the object of this Association is to provide for its publication by receiving donations and subscriptions from the generous and benevolent. Those who may feel disposed to relieve their unfortunate brothers, can do so by contributing to the Agent or the society at 316 North 21st street, Philadelphia.

LITERATI.—The Constitution, By-laws, &c., of the Philipsburg Literary Society, have been revised. Officers will now be elected for three months instead of one month. Debates and Essays are the chief portion of the exercises. The society has not been able, as yet, to secure a permanent place of meeting; for the present they meet in one of the public school rooms.

Public sessions will now become a general thing. The interest manifested in the literary cause by the members is not abating. We are pleased to learn these facts, and say to our young friends persevere, for from your ranks must come the future statesmen of this great nation.

LARGE RATTLE SNAKES.—MRS. James Gill, who resides at the old "Edmunson House," near the top of the mountain, on the Snow Shoe turnpike, last Wednesday, killed near her house a very large Rattle snake which sported fourteen rattles on its "narrative." The next day upon entering a room in when her child was sleeping she discovered anothe rattle snake on the floor, which she also abreviated its earthly existence. It had twelve rattles on its tail. How literally true was the phrophesy that the "heel of the woman should bruise the serpents head," or words to that effect.

WETSLER & TWITMIRE, of Milesburg, are manufacturing Fruit Cans and selling them cheaper than can be purchased elsewhere. n29-2t

TUSCARORA ACADEMY, ACADEMIA, PA.—More than three thousand young men have gone forth from this School, so trained in all the branches of scholarship, as to enable many of them to reflect honor upon themselves, and the Institution at which they received their education.

The large experience and earnestness of the Principals in the cause of education, will contribute much to the successful training of youth entrusted to their care. n29-2t

A DREAM.—The editor in Chief of the REPUBLICAN was blessed with a remarkable dream which we transpose into rhyme, for the benefit of our dilatory subscribers, which can be sang to the tune of "Susannah don't you cry for me:"

I had a dream the other night,
When everything was still,
I dreamed that each subscriber
Came up and paid his bill;
Each wore a look of honesty,
And smiles were round each eye,
As they handed over the stamps,
They yelled, "how is that for high."

REPEATED.—Our readers will find on our fourth page our article of last week entitled. A few Plain words." We have re-published it, friends, hoping that you will heed our appeal and pay up all back dues, and for the present year in advance. To those who have already responded, we return our sincere thanks.

WARM.—This latitude has experienced warmer weather and more of it this summer than for any season for the last 20 year, and it is said by those who ought to know, that it has been warmer hereabouts during the present heatep term than it has been under the equator.

"ALL THE BEST."—We do not subscribe to the assertion of our last weeks correspondent "that all the best citizens of this place" went on an excursion to Clearfield [illegible] the best society

"ONCE MORE."—Oh how much of philosophy, how much of hope, how much of joy, and what a depth of meaning there is in those two little monosylables "Once more." What a broad expansive field opens up before us as we would attempt to moralize upon them.

The good man as he, after a refreshing sleep opens his eyes to behold the light of another day, and raises his head from off his downy pillow and gazes through his window, out upon the world all redolent with flowers and blossoms, listens to the sweet, mellifluous notes of the thousand little warblers that render the leafy grove vocal with their songs—and beholds far off in the eastern horizon the rising beauties and glories of the morning sun, that bright luminary of day—source of light and heat—can but exclaim with heart felt gratitude, and deep and joyful emotions of soul,—

"ONCE MORE, my soul the rising day,
Salutes thy waking eyes,
ONCE MORE, my soul thy tribute pay
To HIM that rules the skys."

Once more should be the motto of every professional man, of every student, merchant, mechanic; of every philanthropist and lover of the human race.

Then let difficulties thicken around us, let impedements, apparently insurmountable, hedge up our pathway and the word FAILURE be written against us by the unfeeling finger of fate—yet we exclaim with peculiar force, energy and emphasis ONCE MORE. The difficulties vanish away, and we are glad to know that in our vocabulary there is no such word as FAIL. Young man, have you ambition to be learned, wise and great, you can only grasp the prize by undefatigable industry and perseverance. Let your motto be ONCE MORE. Step by step we ascend the ladder of fame. One lesson more. Another problem to be solved. One rundle higher. Once More.

ALMOST AN ACCIDENT.—On last Wednesday as the Bellefonte Snow Shoe train No. 4. was passing through a cut west of Snowshoe City the Engineer observed a small child—about two years old, son of John Flynn living near—on thet rack. The Engineer at once whistled down breaks and endeavored to stop the train. In this he succeeded, just as the engine reached the child, who was now on the end of the ties. In passing, the step of the engine struck the child, knocking it down; but fortunately doing it no serious injury.

Great praise is due the conductor of the train and R. McMullen and the Engineer Jerry Nolan for their promptness and decision in stopping their train.

CHANGE.—Our Enterprising townsman John I. Rankin having purchased the Book and Stationary Store of Geo. O'Bryan, in the Bush House,is now prepared to furnish the reading and business community, with books and stationery at rates, so reasonable, as to make it an object for all to patronize him. Mr. Rankin is an honest, worthy young man, and we have no hesitancy in recommending him to the readers of the Republican.

SOLD.—Mr. Adam Winkelbeck, of Haines township, was importuned to go into the Patent Hay Fork business. He went in, signed several papers which he supposed to relate to the use of the right. About 60 days afterwards he was obliged to pay one of our bank officers the sum of $300 to get back his signature; the Patent Right man having secured his signature to a "promise to pay" that amount without his knowledge.

SUN SET.—One of the most beautiful sun sets that it has ever been our pleasure to witness, was visible on last Sunday evening. It lit up the whole western horizon with a golden sheen of splendor which reflecting its dazzling colors upon our house tops made our place, for once, look like the golden city spoken of in the Arabian Knights. We only wish the transient illusion had remained a reality.

ACCIDENT.—On last Saturday evening, while John Sourbeck was returning from the Good Templars pic-nic his horse plunged into a culvert on Allegheny St., near the Episcopal Church which had been carelessly left open, injuring his horse and buggy considerably. Himself and partner escaped without serious injury. By such carelessness our borough, may some day, have to pay dearly.

FOOT BRIDGE.—We are frequently interrogated, why the foot bridge across Spring creek, between Howard and Lamb streets has not been replaced? We are unable to answer the question. We know it was a great convenience to many of our citizens before it was washed away by the flood and would be again if reconstructed. Perhaps that is the reason for its not being re-built.

WEALTH.—For the promotion of the good, the beautiful and the true, gold, goods and lands are a heretage from heaven; but when wrapped in a napkin, and bound to the heart they congeal human sympathies, and blast human life. One case of relieved human suffering affords more real pleasure to the true philanthropist than the misers millions hid away in his chest.

"ALL FLESH IS GRASS."—A correspondent in the last Waichman wants our people to let the grass grow on the pavements. Unless our capitalists, that is if we have got any, use some of their surplus "scrip" and influence, in having manufacturing establishments erected here, there will be no trouble in grassing both our streets and pavements.

BARGAINS.—Isaac Haupt Esq., having finished his new house, now occupies the front room, first floor, with his stove tin and sheet iron store. Isaac is full of the true grit, and is now offering tin ware, and fruit cans 20 per cent lower than they can be purchased at any other establishment in town or county. n2v29-2t,

A GIFT.—Henry W. Chase, formerly a resident of this city, and now editor of the Scranton Republican, was, on July 4, the recipient of a purse containing $30, a gift from one hundred and twenty appreciative friends in that city. He published a card expressive of his thanks in the Republican of July 6. Ex.

OBITUARY.—

"Man that is born of woman is of but few day's and full of trouble, he is cut down like a flower and where is he?"

Those words Struck no more forcible at this writing, than ever before. My mind this evening, has wandered back to the hills of my Native State, thought is busy with old associations, with the living but more particularly just now, with one whose eyes have so recently been closed in that last long sleep;—J. R. Zimmerman. "It was a bolting,thoughwherewith to end the day, the one touch of Nature that makes the whole world kin. The subject of these remarks deserve more than a passing notice. It was our pleasure to claim him as an Associate, and friend thus we found engrafted in his very being those virtues so essential to the happiness of Man, and which makes him a burning light to those by whom he is surrounded. "Faith Hope and Charity." As a follower of our National flag, during the sanguinary conflict, through which we have just passed, he was ever to be found in front, brave to a fault. He was captured, confined in a Southern prison for Months, where he contracted a disease from which he never recovered. He was a consistent member of the Presbyterian Church and a member of the Y. M. C. A.—It is almost more than we can realize that he is gone. Little did we think when we clasped his warm hand, with a "Good bye" that we should never see our friend again. It is sad for us to think of one so young, surrounded by devoted parents, loving Sisters and Brothers, kind friends to be called away.

But we must all bow with submission to Natures fixed and unmoving laws.

Although unconcious at the time his spirit took its flight, could not see the scalding tears that coursed down the cheeks, and not hear the suppressed sobs of those who surrounded his couch, and loved him yet they all knew his life had been such that death had no terror for him.

God grant that the final act in the drama of our existance may be as his. R.

TO THE Worshipful Master, Officers and Brethern of Bellefonte Lodge No. 268 of A. Y. M:

The undersigned Committee appointed to report resolutions expressive of the sentiments of this Lodge relative to the death of our Brother and fellow member Maj. Andrew Hunter,would respectfully report:

First. That in this dispensation of Providence we recognize the chastening hand of Him who doeth all for our faithful and beloved brother has called from the labor and toil of the earth on earth to participate in the felicities of the craftsmen in the lodge of our Great Father above.

Second. He was a good man, a brave and patriotic citizen, a charitable, warmhearted and magnanimous gentleman, noble and strong-minded—one who strove to obey the golden rule "to do unto others as he would have others do unto him."

Third. We tender respectfully unto his family and friends our heartfelt and earnest sympathy. and express to them our firm and solemn belief that their and our loss is his gain, that although gone and separated from us it is only for a season, and whereas we hope sooner or later to join him in the eternal mansions above.

Fourth. That these resolutions shall be published in the papers of Bellefonte as a testimonial of our respect for the character and memory of our departed brother, and that a copy of the same be mailed to the family of the deceased.

THE WAY ONE MAN DID.—"When trade grew slack and notes fell due, the merchant's face grew long and blue; his dreams were troubled through the night, with sheriff's bailiffs all in sight. At last his wife unto him said, "Rise up at once, get out of bed, and get your paper, ink and pen, and advertise to all good men. He did as his good wife advised, and in the paper advertised. Crowds came and bought off all he had; his notes were paid, his dreams were glad, and he will tell you to this day, how well did printers ink repay."

WHOSE HYMN BOOK?—The following lines were found in a lady's hymn book which she carelessly left in church last Sunday:

"I look in vain—he does not come:
Dear, dear, what shall I do!
I cannot listen as I ought,
Unless he listens too.
He might have come as well as not;
What plagues these fellows are!
I'll bet he's fast a sleep, at home,
Or smoking a segar."

TRUST HIM.—The man who pays the printer and is always clear of his books can be trusted—Safely trusted in any business transaction, or occupation, or calling in life. He is an honest man. We say trust him.

RAISING HAY.—We hear it rumored that the borough Dads intend sowing the new street along Spring Creek, between High and Lamb streets, with grass preparatory to raising a hay crop next season.

REWARD.—We often hear of country papers having the largest circulation. We will give a handsome reward to any publisher who will send us a copy of a county paper having the smallest circulation.

THE charcoal tin Fruit Cans manufactured and sold by Wetsler & Twitmire, of Milesburg, for 85 cents per dozen, are the best and cheapest in the market. Every can warranted. n29-2t

FOR SALE.—J. & J. Harris offer for sale a new four horse wagon made by that superior workman Mr. Albert Ammerman. Every thing connected with it is of the very best.

FISH.—Two thousand fish, it is said, were caught in the level at Curtin's Iron works last week by drawing the water out of the race.

PRAYER MEETING.—A weekly prayer meeting is held at Pleasant Hill School House which is largely attended.

DID RIGHT.—Those Subscribers who paid in advance last week.

THE REPUBLICAN.

Wednesday Morning, July 27, 1870.

BARGAINS! BARGAINS!!

The Bellefonte REPUBLICAN and the "American Agriculturist."

We are now prepared to offer the people of Centre county, a Great Bargain for the coming year, It is this: To every subscriber who will send us $3.00 in advance, we will send the

BELLEFONTE "REPUBLICAN,"

and the

'AMERICAN AGRICULTURIST,'

for one year. Of the REPUBLICAN we need not speak at present.

The American Agriculturist is a work that no farmer nor housekeeper should be without. As a farm-journal we think it has no superior in the world—certainly none in the United States. It is issued monthly, and the subscription price is $1.50 per annum. By clubing with the REPUBLICAN you save fifty cents, and secure more good reading matter than you can obtain in any other way for the same money.

We hope the reading public will avail themselves of this very liberal offer.

A FEW PLAIN WORDS.

Money Wanted---Work to be Done---How to Support a Newspaper---Centre County oppressed by Democratic Misrule.

If we had a surplus capital of $20,000, we would not trouble our subscribers with bills for a year's subscription, nor with hateful duns, and moreover, we would never stop a paper on a man who felt himself unable to pay for. it; but on the contrary would send a copy to every poor man in the county. Unfortunately our surplus capital does not amount to that sum, and therefore we must do business on the cash principle as nearly as possible.

We have published the Republican now, over eighteen months and have never sent a bill outside of Bellefonte to one of our subscribers. So, you cannot complain of incessant dunning.

We have not even eaten out, nor drawn out our advertising bills as did the National.

We started with a thirty-two column paper. We have now increased to thirty six columns which we send you at the same price. This is more than we agreed to do, and more than you bargained for.

Now friends in order to make the REPUBLICAN a live and readable paper we must have money. We must have our money when it is due, and our terms are $2,00 per annum in advance.

Of the 2300 hundred subscribers now on our subscription book, fully 1000 have not complied with our terms, and paid in advance. What mechanic would like to work a year or two years, and wait upon one half of his wages till the close of the time? What farmer would work cheerfully year in, and year out, if he were compelled to wait a year for the proceeds of all the products of the farm? Not one of you would do it. Are you not unreasonable, then, when you ask us, to do what you would not do? Is it right, that we should print on, print ever, and not get our pay; while you are enjoying full barns, rich larders and plethoric purses?

We need money and must have it.

We want each and every one of you to send us the $2,00 you owe us within the next THREE WEEKS.

Every one of you can afford to do it. It is now harvest and you all have money.

Attend to your paper bill the first thing you do.

We have 400 subscribers who have taken the REPUBLICAN until they now owe us two years subscription or $4,00 each.

We want our money now friends and you have it or can get it without any trouble to you, so please send, or bring it, right along.

Now if you will, each and every one, do this, and we are proud to say, that you are perfectly able, you will do your duty to yourself, to the Republican party, a great kindness to us, and at the same time, your kindness in the aggregate will count to us in greenbacks, over $2000. Who will be the first to respond?

Centre is one of the most wealthy counties in the state. We lack but 250 votes of being in the majority in the county. In numbers the two parties are nearly equal, while we claim to have a majority of the reading. intelligent portion of our citizens in the ranks of the Republican party. We have the loyal portion of our citizens in our ranks. We have the majority of the intelligent working. men, two to one.

Under these circumstances, the idea of the Republican party not being able to support its county paper—its organ, is supremely rediculous.

Again we would have you remember, that rich as you are, not one of you can get any of our city daily or weekly, papers, unless you pay for it in advance.

This is true and you know it, then why should you ask us to trust you—to wait on you six months or a year? Ask yourselves the question "Is it fair, is it right, is it honest"?

There can be no doubt in regard to your ability to pay, and it is equally certain that nine out of every ten of our present subscribers could induce some friend or friends to try the REPUBLICAN six months or a year. You all have influence and if you, wish to see Centre county redeemed from copperheadism and the County taxes diminished, you should give that influence to your organ —the REPUBLICAN. You should aid it by both your money and influence.

There are three ways, says the Independent in which to support a good news paper; three ways to give it life, health and a prosperous existence.

1st. By writing for it, and enriching its broad columns with good, sound, attractive reading.

2. By subscribing for it, and inducing all your friends to do likewise.

3. By advertising in it your business and your wants, and thus give it the extra, material, tangible support which will surely enable it to prosper.

Republicans of Centre we are on the eve of an important campaign. We have a Congressman, a Senator, and a County ticket to elect. You cannot conduct the campaign without the aid of the REPUBLICAN—your organ. We call upon you then to arouse to action, bestir yourselves or the rebels and copperheads will again seize the helm in the State and Nation. If you would prevent this, work for the REPUBLICAN. Observe the three rules laid down by the Independent. Write your best thoughts for the REPUBLICAN; subscribe for it your selves, and induce your friends and neighbors to subscribe; advertise your business in its columns.

Will you, reader, give a little attention to this matter NOW?

Remember our terms are $2,00 in advance, and if you send us the money immediately, you will save us the trouble of sending out bills at the expiration of THREE WEEKS.

Shall the Watchman and the RING rule on forever? Will the Pennsvally Democrats never be convinced of the wickedness of the Bellefonte Ring? Take the REPUBLICAN and pay for it in advance.

For the REPUBLICAN.

MANSFIELD, O., July 11, 1870.

W. W. BROWN Esq:—I thought it might be interesting to the readers of the REPUBLICAN to have a birds-eye view of the great reaper trial now in progress in this place. One-hundred and one mowers and reapers are here to enter, and the contest will be very close.

The scale of merit is, first, equality of work, perfection, 40; second simplicity of construction, 10; third, durability, 15; fourth, ease of draft, 20; fifth, market price 5; sixth, facility of management, 10. No credit is allowed for hurrying the horses but all machines must move at an ordinary rate each competitor furnishes his own team and driver.

The awarding committee consists of five men from different parts of the State; they have prepared slips numbering from one upwards, and competitors draw and determine the order in which the respective machines shall be operated.

The "Champion" entered first, this machine is gaining favor among the large crowd of spectators.

Thus far, the following have been entered.

REAPERS AND MOWERS COMBINED.

Champion, Excelsior, Hussey, Wood, Atlantic, Hubbard, Dodge, Etna, Eclipse, Sulkey, Bucyrus, World, Ottaua, Mansfield, Eagle, Wyandot, Chief. Buckeye, Kerby, and Clipper.

Many others are entered as mowers or reapers only.

Among the many my preference would be either the Champion, Excelsior or Buckeye combined, but as I am not on the committee of merit and as the awards will not be announced until the State fair it is useless to express a preference. perhaps, by an outsider, rambling among the hundred machines here and apparantly all good yet the Buckeye seems to me the one for Centre Co., taking into consideration the ground a machine has to travel over. Then I would say dont trade off your Buckey with the thoughts of getting a better one.

The premiums to be awarded are three gold medals. One to the best mower one to the best reaper and one to the best mower and reaper combined. It will likely take this entire week before the trial will end. If I remain here to the end of the trial I will have more to say.

I have traveled over the greater part of Ohio, crops in some places are good. The best cultivated land has the poorest wheat crop, some fields of wheat are very good especially where mediteranian wheat is raised. Hay is a poor crop, generally; so is oats; corn does well in many places; apples will be plenty. Harvest is about over.—Rain to-day. The Fourth of July was celebrated throughout the state in the old fashioned way, wonderful how folks will turn out on this day. A few days ago I aided in amputating a mans thigh, on account of an injury per cars. This was the fourth amputation of lower limbs this man underwent at different times, besides this his arm is now broken, says he will not die yet, good pluck I think. In Haste.

J. K. H.

The editor of The Marietta Register is getting into hot water on the woman suffrage question, and proceeds to define his position in this highly diplomatic manner:

I. If a woman is disposed to argue with us in favor of woman's suffrage we are in favor of it also.

II. If the lady happens to be against it, we are against it likewise.

III. If it is a mixed assembly of ladies, one or more on each side, they may have that among themselves we hokling the bonnets.

An Iowa man tried to kiss a neighbor's wife, but before he got through the lady hit him on the head with a rolling pin, and put him out of doors. The husband took a revolver, and went to the man for satisfaction, but concluded to settle it by taking the villain's note for $10, which he traded off for a corn plow. The man who holds the note cannot collect, the giver of it claiming that he did not get value received.

Robert Edwards secured a land grant one hundred years ago from George III for a piece of territory near Canal street, in the City of New York.—Edwards leased the property for ninety-nine years, and, this term having expired, two of his descendants now living in Gadsded, Ga., have been notified that on proving their identity they will come into possession of the property, which is valued at $82, 000,000.

NOVEL VOYAGE.—The Advertiser, of Elmira, says Messrs. William L. Kingman Robert Stephens and Charles W. Rhodes, of that city, started in a light skiff for Baltimore via Chemug and Susquehanna rivers. These "ambitious youths," says the Advertiser, will add to their health and strength by "working their passage." Their little boat, when fully loaded, only draws three inches.

Miss Cross, residing in Balltown, near Pithole, killed a rattlesnake last week, five and one-half feet long, with eleven rattles. It was a sad day for his snakeship when she Cross ed his track.

A saw mill at Eau-claire, Wisconsin, the capacity of which is one gang and two circular saws, cut in twelve hours 181,863 feet of lumber from 684 logs. The mill was built by Mr. Doolittle of Tioga county Pa.

The editor of a paper says and increase in his family makes an increase in his subscription list actually necessary. Business is business.

On Sunday last, at White Oaks, Forest county, a young man attempted to drown himself, merely because his lady love was fickle.

Over 70 tons of pigeons have been sent to market from Port Allegheny Mckean county, Pa.

THE GREAT MEDICAL DISCOVERY!

DR. WALKER'S CALIFORNIA VINEGAR BITTERS.

MORE THAN 500,000 PERSONS Bear testimony to their Wonderful Curative Effects.

WHAT ARE THEY?

THEY ARE NOT A VILE

FANCY DRINK,

Made of Poor Rum, Whiskey Proof Spirits, and Refuse Liquors, declared spiced and sweetened to please the taste, called "Tonics," "Appetizers," "Restorers," &c., that lead the tippler on to drunkenness and ruin, but are a true medicine, made from the native Roots and Herbs of California free from all Alcoholic Stimulants. They are the Great Blood Purifier and Life Giving Principle, a perfect Renovator and Invigorator, of the System, carrying off all poisonous matter, and restoring the blood to a healthy condition. No person can take these Bitters according to directions, and remain long unwell.

$100 will be given for an incurable case provided the bones are not destroyed by mineral poisons or other means, and the vital organs wasted beyond the point of repair.

For Inflammatory and Chronic Rheumatism, and Gout, Dyspepsia, or Indigestion Bilious, Remittent, and Intermittent Fevers, Diseases of the Blood, Liver, Kidneys, and Bladder, these Bitters have been most successful. Such Diseases are caused by Vitiated Blood, which is generally produced by derangement of the Digestive Organs.

Cleanse the Vitiated Blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the skin in Pimples, Eruptions or Sores; cleanse it when you find it obstructed and sluggish in the veins; cleanse it when it is foul, and your feelings will tell you when. Keep the blood pure and the health of the system will follow.

PIN, TAPE, and other WORMS, lurking in the system of so many thousands, are effectually destroyed and removed.

In Bilious, Remittent, and Intermittent Fevers, these Bitters have no equal. For full directions read carefully the circular around each bottle, printed in four languages—English, German, French, and Spanish.
